Source: Data from the four campuses.

Note: Campus Title IX offices may not have had an opportunity or a reason to intervene in respondents' behavior for all reports in this table. For example, we considered a respondent to have been the subject of multiple reports even if a campus Title IX office received these reports in short succession. Further, as we explain in the Introduction, there are several reasons why campus Title IX offices may close cases without taking formal action.

* We removed some duplicate reports that originated from different reporting parties but described the same underlying incident or allegation. However, the format and details of these data varied by campus, and we did not obtain the underlying files that support each case listed in the table. These limitations may affect the precision of the data. Nevertheless, we took steps to ensure that the data are generally accurate.

† We exclude from this table all unknown respondents.
